

HISTORICAL STUDENT CAMPUS VISIT(FLY-IN) PROGRAMS

Some colleges offer a fall weekend program which allows for students from diverse backgrounds that are traditionally underrepresented on college campuses to visit the college and get a “feel” for the campus and its students, culture, and academic atmosphere. It is critical that you become aware of the opportunities and take advantage of them as deadlines and information often come up quickly. Below is a list of colleges that have offered these programs in the past – so you can find out information about them and be prepared for opportunities as they arise.
